

Examiners training system in Rospatent

Mikhail Salnikov,
chief patent examiner of Measurement technique Division

Types of Training in Rospatent

- Training for newcomers – new examiners
- General training for all examiners of all divisions
- General training for all examiners in one division

Training for newcomers

- training inside division with tutor

The total duration of training is on average 4 months

- general training for all newcomers in one classroom

The total duration of training is 4 months

Training inside division with tutor

- It starts immediately from the first day of newcomers work
- The main purpose is to teach beginner practical methods of conducting the patent examination in particular technical area.

Requirements to tutor

- to have knowledge and skills in the same technical area as newcomer
- to have sufficient experience of work in patent examination

Training inside division with tutor

Subjects for training with tutor

Patent law – only parts that are useful for practical work

Duration is two days.

For the training with tutor the “bad” application is used. The application is simple, but it contains mistakes.

Training inside division with tutor

Analyzing documents of application

- Information search
- Information search report
- Written opinion - request to inventor

The training with the tutor is organized by the head of division.

The head of division controls this training.

The general training for all newcomers

- is organized by Quality department
- The teachers are chosen from
 - heads of departments,
 - heads of divisions and
 - deputy heads of divisions.
- ... include lectures and seminars.

All subjects are studied from general positions without regarding particular technical area.

General training for all examiners of all divisions

It can be provided if

- the patent law is changed
- if general repeatable mistakes were detected
- if we have other question that all patent examiners - beginners and experienced— should know.

It is organized by the Quality department.

General training for all examiners in one division

- Is conducted by head of division or deputy head of division
- The training issues are the same as for general training, but the area of technique is taken into consideration.
- The result of external control.

Thank you for your attention

